

Notes to Documents:

You should, as the owner of an encumbered Blackburne Creek property, be aware that these documents are registered on your title and remain in force in perpetuity. While the same in content, the Restrictive Covenants in the Blackburne Creek subdivision were registered under more than one document number. Please consult with Land Titles to determine your specific document number.